

River Hall eStreet Disclaimer Information:

eStreet is a registered trademark of the LandMar Group, LLC and is a program that provides for community-wide bundled service agreements with communication vendors and companies. Actual equipment, programming, deployment, cabling, connectivity and all aspects of services are provided through contractual agreements with independent vendor companies and are subject to their specifications and terms. Enhanced programming services require additional fees. Some service and technical support applications require additional costs and fees. Programming of computers, televisions and other appliances may require professional support from trained technicians at prevailing rates. Descriptions herein are for general reference only and should not be considered as any guarantee of signal or service quality. Refer to vendor company literature for more information. Structured wiring and all other in-home equipment and construction aspects are provided by participating builders and their vendors who are solely responsible for related equipment, materials, programming and service.
